Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ramanathan et al U.S. Patent No. 5,898,780.

As to claim 12, Ramanathan et al discloses a network system comprising:

individual service provider devices each having a first authentication server and access point terminals to which user terminals of users who contract a corresponding one of the individual service provider devices are connected, the access point terminals connecting the user terminal to a network [column 19 line 50 to column 20 line 21];

a parallel service provider device connected to the network and the individual service provider devices, the parallel service provider device having a roaming contract with the individual service provider devices and including a second authentication server and no access point terminal [column 19 line 50 to column 20 line 21]; and wherein each of the individual service provider devices comprises:

determining means for determining whether a user who issues a connection request from a user terminal connected to one of the access point terminals is a contracted member of the parallel service provider device [column 20 line 22 to column 21 line 35];

transmitting means for transmitting the connection request to the parallel service provider device to cause the second authentication server of the parallel services provider device to perform user authentication when the user is the contracted member [column 20 line 22 to column 21 line 35]; authentication means for causing the first authentication server of the individual service provider devices to perform user authentication when the user is not the contracted member [column 20 line 22 to column 21 line 35]; and connecting means for connecting the user terminal connected to one of the access point terminals to the network and charging the user for connection when a result of user authentication is good [column 20 line 22 to column 21 line 35].

As to claim 13, Ramanathan et al discloses that the connection request comprises an e-mail address including a domain name of the parallel service provider device [column 23 line 66 to column 24 line 30]. Ramanathan et al discloses that the determining means determines whether the user is a contracted member based on the presence or absence of the domain name of the parallel service provider device in the connection request [column 23 line 66 to column 24 line 30].

As to claim 14, Ramanathan et al discloses that the parallel service provider device is connected to the individual service provider devices through an exclusive line [column 20 line 22 to column 21 line 35].

As to claim 15, Ramanathan et al discloses that the individual service provider devices send respective user connection logs to the parallel service provider device [column 20 line 22 to column 21 line 353].

As to claim 16, Ramanathan et al discloses that the parallel service provider device comprises:

receiving means for receiving a user name for a user terminal of a user who requests a signup [column 20 line 22 to column 21 line 35]; and further determining means for determining whether e-mail addresses including a combination of the input user name and sub-domains of the parallel service provider device has been registered so as to register one of non-registered e-mail addresses [column 20 line 22 to column 21 line 35].
